In February 2021, it was also reported that some TikTok users who had provided their contact details for verification purposes had received a notification stating that their mobile number would be used by ByteDance for promotional purposes starting February 8, 2021. Meanwhile, others were receiving messages stating that their name would not be allowed to appear next to ByteDance's logo. Because of the fact that there appears to be no clear statement on how people are allowed to opt out of these types of promotional schemes, many have had a negative reaction to them. The following is an example screenshot of a comment by someone who was trying to upload a video with their contact details:",

As of September 2021, TikTok has reached over 200 million monthly active users on the iOS operating system with over 9 billion video views, 50 million daily users and over 1 billion likes daily. On February 27, 2021, Instagram announced that it would bring its "stories" format to TikTok on March 22 of the same year, allowing creators to place their content in Instagram's main feed. As a result, this feature will be available on iOS devices.", So, if you want to create your own videos to share them with other people then TikTok is one of the best apps for you to do so as it also allows you to create group conversations with the viewers who are interested in watching your videos. The only drawback is that there are no "good-looking" videos found on this app. Otherwise, it is a good app that allows its users the freedom of doing all they want to do on the app like uploading videos, sharing them etc without having any restrictions at all. That's why we have given it four stars out of five.",

In other articles, this particular app has also been referred to as controversial and dangerous. An article published by the Los Angeles Times noted that "TikTok has become a hotbed for online predators who are taking advantage of the app's anonymity features to organize cyberbullying attacks and solicit explicit photos and videos from underage users." The article continued to describe how TikTok is being used as an exploitative tool against teenagers by predators.", In an article published by TechCrunch, it was alleged that "Yet TikTok's parent company ByteDance, a $75 billion media company that also owns content production companies Jinri Toutiao and TopBuzz (as well as artificial intelligence startups), recently raised $3 billion in new funding from SoftBank. That brings its value to $75 billion." This article was published on TechCrunch. In an article published by The Verge, it was alleged that "ByteDance is best known for the news app Toutiao, which has been called "the BuzzFeed of China." It's also made a number of investments in artificial intelligence companies based out of China and recently acquired U.S.-based Flipagram to build out its video art-creation app, which now has 200 million registered users on Google Play and another 500 million or so on Apple's App Store. In the year since Microsoft bought LinkedIn for $26 billion, ByteDance has already seen its valuation soar past that mark." This article was published on The Verge.", In July 2021, Chinese regulators forced TikTok to censor its content globally in order to comply with local laws. The company was also forced to remove 985 million monthly users from the platform. This led many young users to fear that their accounts would be permanently deleted and their personal information sold on the black market. TikTok's only option to comply with such a mandate is by removing any inappropriate content that exists on the platform, leaving YouTube-like platforms as the primary destination for such content.", In a June 2021 interview with BuzzFeed News, Shah stated that the company had taken steps to prevent fake accounts from being used for inappropriate content. He added that the company has a team working on ways to stop fake accounts and is "working in every country to make sure that we're looking at it." He also said he could not comment on the cases of a number of people being accused of using fake accounts because the company does not discuss specific cases.",

The app had 10 million downloads in December 2021, and more than 17 million downloads by February 2021. In November 2021, Musical.ly announced that it had reached 100 million active users. The app was featured on "TIME's "50 Best Android Apps" list, and its parent company Musical.ly was listed as one of the "Hottest Startups of 2021" by CNBC. In a 2021 study conducted by Frank N. Magid Associates, it was reported that 21% of teenagers in the US used Musical.ly, an increase from the 15% who used it in 2021.", Social media website Reddit users are known for posting TikTok videos on the forum. The real-time social video platform has gained popularity. It is mostly used as a replacement to YouTube. Users post videos from their phones or computers to the platform, where they can be viewed by other users and added to their own collections. Users can also post comments and GIFs in a similar fashion as "Reddit" does on its forum section. The platform has gained a reputation for having a lot of vulgar content, but it is generally regarded as more entertaining than the norm.", According to many users, the app suffers from bugs that makes it hard for users to follow other users on the app. Some cases include not being able to see some of the filters used in a video or even being unable to see people's comments on posts. There have also been allegations by multiple users that their accounts have been hacked or deleted without their consent. On December 13, 2021, the company faced backlash over its handling of inappropriate content and in turn lost a lot of users. In some cases, people have had their accounts deleted without the option to retrieve.", In an article published by The Wall Street Journal, it was alleged that "In the three months leading up to December 2021, TikTok ranked as the third most downloaded app in North America on both iOS and Android, according to App Annie." This article was published on The Wall Street Journal. In an article published by TechCrunch, it was alleged that "The app is hugely popular in Asia with over 800 million active monthly users and with more than 60 million monthly active users in Japan alone. Yet the firm has done relatively poorly outside of China so far." This article was published on TechCrunch. In an article published by The Washington Post, it was alleged that "It's difficult to measure this growth, however. TikTok, which is owned by Chinese tech giant ByteDance and has an estimated 500 million users, still has a relatively low profile in the United States." This article was published on The Washington Post."
